Distributing a copy of a snapshot of his caseload for the first quarter of this year and how counseling affects student achievement, he urged the Board to keep counselors.

PRESENTATIONS

- * San Leandro High School Fred T. Korematsu Campus “I Am Here and Ready for College” Parent Education Program Update

Debbie Wong, Interim Assistant Superintendent, Educational Services and Jaliza Eagles, GEAR UP Coordinator, along with Consultant Teneh Weller provided a presentation sharing the parent education workshop series, “I Am Here and Ready for College”, at the San Leandro Fred T. Korematsu (FTK) Campus. Included in the update was a synopsis of the curriculum, class participation, and parent feedback on the workshop thus far. Highlights included:

- Parent Leadership Program is broken down into seven workshops:
 1. Ages and Stages – the 2nd Decade - Parents will understand the different stages of development and what they can do to support their child through the different stages.
 2. The Engaged Parent - Parents will learn about the support that will be offered to them and their child throughout the year and will discuss the importance of setting high expectations for academic and social performance.
 3. Say “No” to Stress - Parents will identify their stressors and develop strategies for alleviating stress and will understand the importance of open communication with their child in order to support them through stressful situations.
 4. Communication - Parents will learn to use effective communication tools with their child, teachers, and others and understand how to communicate in a way that encourages cooperation.
 5. Encouraging Cooperation - Parents will identify their parenting style and understand how that affects their child’s development and will understand how to use family contracts as a method for encouraging positive discipline.

6. The Partnership Model - Parents will understand how to develop positive relationships with their child's teachers and work together to ensure academic excellence, and will learn the importance of partnering. Parents will also receive a short ABI training which allows them access to look at their child's grades and progress in the areas of behavior, attendance and academic performance.
 7. Graduation - Parents and students will come together for the last session and discuss how to consistently monitor academic progress in school, to ensure that students are achieving the A-G requirements. The second half of the evening parents and students will share what they have learned and celebrate their 7-week journey. Each parent will share their vision statements with their family and friends.
- The Parent Leadership fall session was comprised of a very diverse group with 22 English and 20 Spanish-speaking parents representing 50% of the students who fit into the target group of GPA between 1.5-2.5; 15% with GPA less than 1.5, and 5% students with GPA above 2.5.
 - The winter session will begin February 3, 2011, with 30 parents already making a commitment to attend.

The Board heard testimony from two parents, Elizabeth Becerra and Porche Lombard, who participated in the program and will be graduating on December 16, 2010. They described how this program has benefited them by helping them to better support their child academically, and to better partner with the school.

Staff added that it is the hope that once the grant funding comes to an end, the program will have become a highly integral part of the school so that the curriculum and Parent Liaison will help deliver and sustain the program.

The Board thanked staff for the informative presentation and the parents for sharing their experience.

Additional questions and suggestions raised by the Board included future funding, posting the information on the website, considering Student Services as a resource for recruitment for parents of suspended or truant students, and including a study skills session for students and parents.

* Energy Education

Energy Education, a company that is based in Dallas, Texas, has saved organizations across the country more than $2 billion for education. The savings came from implementing a people-oriented “Transformational Energy Management” process and thus spending less on utility bills. The company provided a presentation to the Facility & Technology Committee on October 8, 2010. The presentation was for informational purposes only, allowing trustees to ask questions. Energy Education has submitted a proposal to the District, which is currently being reviewed by staff and legal counsel. A recommendation for approval of the proposal, if appropriate, will be presented to the Board at a later date.

Key points of the presentation provided by representatives from Energy Education included:

- No new equipment is needed
- No capital outlay required
- No comfort is sacrificed
- Program funded directly out of your existing utility budget
- The vast majority (well over 90%) of their clients save 20%-30%
- The District keeps the score on the energy-saving costs
- District investment is guaranteed (if they don't save the District at least the cost of their fee, Energy Education will write us a check for the difference each year)
- A net savings of approximately $3.8M is estimated over 10 years
- After the four-year contract period ends, Energy Education will continue to provide their experience, training and expertise, as long as the District maintains the program
- The program changes habits, thus the savings are sustainable over decades

The Board asked clarifying questions which were addressed by the presenters. In addition, Trustee Mack-Rose asked if some of the initial Fast Track consultant fees might be covered by the recently-passed Measure M bond. Assistant Superintendent Chin-Bendib indicated that she would research this.

CONFERENCE ITEMS

Educational Services

3.1-CF Grades 4-12 Intensive Intervention Instructional Materials Adoption

The Board discussed and considered adopting grades 4-12 Intensive Intervention Instructional Materials.

Interim Assistant Superintendent Debbie Wong explained that as part of the District's Program Improvement Plan, staff implemented "Tiered Intervention," or the "Pyramid of Intervention," a system designed to improve learning outcomes for all students and address the needs of students who are more than 2 years below grade level in reading. Through a committee process, it was decided to adopt three different textbooks for each grade span: Grades 4/5; middle schools, and the high schools, as part of completing the tiered intervention pyramid. The Board Curriculum Committee met and is recommending the adoption of the following three intensive intervention instructional materials:

- Elementary: Hampton Brown's Inside for 4th-5th Intensive Intervention. Level A for 4th-5th and Level B for 5th
- Middle School: Cambium Learning's Language! For 6th-8th Intensive Intervention (Entry Level A is 0-2.5 and Level C is 3-5 Grade level)
- High School: Hampton Brown's Edge is recommended for 9-12 levels A-B 9th-10th, A-B-C 11th-12th

Trustee James thanked staff and Trustee Mack-Rose for mentioning the committee work and the importance of stakeholders being brought into the conversation.

On a motion made by Trustee Prola and seconded by Trustee Carey, the Board adopted grades 4-12 Intensive Intervention Instructional materials, by a 7-0 vote.

3.2-CF Discussion and Next Steps Regarding the Kindergarten Schedule for 2011-2012

The Board discussed and considered postponing the Kindergarten Task Force work as it relates to extended day Kindergarten for the 2011-2012 school year.

Interim Assistant Superintendent Debbie Wong explained that last year, when looking at changing schedules at the elementary level, the Board agreed to eliminate staggered reading in grades 1-3 in order to have dedicated intervention time called Reading Academy, and to reconvene a Kindergarten Task Force in 2010-11 to explore alternative schedule changes for 2011-12 implementation.

Since that time, there have been several things prompting whether it would be better to leave the current staggered schedule for 2011-2012, and postpone the Kindergarten Task Force for this year. Major areas included:

- Kindergarten Readiness Act of 2010: changes the Kindergarten entry age from 5 years old by December 2nd to 5 years old by September 1st in a three-year phase-in process
- K-5 teachers are implementing a brand new tiered intervention system along with new ELA assessments and new curriculum (Reading Academy)
- Class size increases

A brief discussion ensued with Trustee Prola stating that she would rather not postpone, as the decision to extend the Kindergarten day plan this year with implementation in 2011-12 had already been agreed upon. In light of all of the changes, however, the Board agreed to postpone reconvening the task force this year, and that the Kindergarten Task Force would reconvene in the 2011-12 school year to begin planning and developing an alternative schedule and transitional Kindergarten for implementation in 2012-13.

On a motion made by Trustee Mack-Rose and seconded by Trustee James, the Board agreed postponing the Kindergarten Task Force work as it relates to extended day Kindergarten for the 2011-2012 school year, by a 6-1 vote. Trustee Prola voting no.

ADDITIONAL SUGGESTIONS AND COMMENTS FROM BOARD MEMBERS

Following the election, Trustee Mack-Rose assumed her new role as President and asked for any additional suggestions and comments from Board members.

- Trustee Sullivan congratulated the new officers and Board trustees. She commended Trustee Katz-Lacabe for his service as President for that past two years.
- Trustee Almonte congratulated and welcomed the new Board members, and recognized outgoing Board President Trustee Katz-Lacabe for his service in that capacity.

Trustee Almonte reported that he attended the following workshops at the recent CSBA Conference: Board President workshop, Creating Safer Schools for LGBT Students, Promoting Student Nutrition Advisory Councils, Dashboard for School Governance, and Securing Sustainable Funding for After School Programs, commenting that overall he gained new knowledge and perspectives that will guide him through his term as a school board member.

- Trustee Katz-Lacabe welcomed the new Board trustees and congratulated the new officers, commenting that it was a pleasure serving as President and stating that he is very optimistic about the future of the Board and City continuing to work together for the betterment of the community.

Trustee Katz-Lacabe asked that the meeting be adjourned in memory of Emily Tao.

- Trustee Carey congratulated the new Board officers. He thanked the members for making this transition as a new trustee a smooth one and thanked the Superintendent and staff for providing him with pertinent information, adding that he was looking forward to serving on the Board.
- Trustee James thanked the Board, the Superintendent and District staff for being welcoming, and informative, thus bridging the gap between being an observer and a participant. He commented that Trustee Carey and he attended the New Board Member workshop at the CSBA conference.
- Trustee Prola commented that as the District's CSBA delegate, she attended the Alameda County/Contra Costa County breakfast meeting at the conference where she learned that there were a number of districts who received less than positive certifications and was pleased that San Leandro Unified was not one of them. She also attended a session where Pedro Noguera, a leading urban sociologist, spoke about students, particularly minority students, who are falling through the educational cracks. She hoped that in the upcoming months the Board would embark on some serious discussions about what we can do to benefit our students (particularly at the high school level), who are experiencing similar issues.

Trustee Prola offered a suggestion that when the Board meeting agendas are particularly full, presentations be limited to one per meeting.

- Trustee Mack-Rose commended Trustee Katz-Lacabe on his service as Board President and welcomed the new Board Trustees. She thanked everyone for their confidence and support in electing her as President, adding that as Board President, it will be her goal to facilitate meetings that are efficient, productive and respectful.

She commented that she will be working with the Superintendent to develop a comprehensive Board training plan for the year, and that in January she is planning on agendizing a review of the Board protocols.

Trustee Mack-Rose reported that all the committee requests have been turned in, and she will be announcing the assignments at the Special meeting on December 14. In the meantime, at her request, Trustee

Sullivan volunteered, to attend the Finance committee meeting tomorrow, December 8, at 5 p.m.

At 9:17 p.m., the Board recessed into closed session.
