NEWS!

WEEK OF:
August
16th

This week in Room 22:

We had a great first week of school! We discussed our names and how special they are. We read the story Chrysanthemum. We talked about school rules and why they are important. We began discussing the five senses in science. Students enjoyed going to Music and PE, too.

Next Week:

Students will be practicing their letter sounds and using them to sound out short words. We will review ways to make numbers using a number bond. We will continue to learn about our senses, exploring how sound works. Students will also begin their assessments next week.

Reminders:

Please remember to turn in your child's information form and join me on ClassDojo to see pictures and messages from class.

Thank you so much for the class donations.

Feel free to stop by the classroom or email me anytime!
