NEWS!

WEEK OF:
August
30th

This week in Room 22:

The first graders worked hard this week. We continued to practice sounding out words and writing using our sounds. In math, we are practicing making 6, 7, 8, and 9 in different ways. In Writers' Workshop, we discussed all the different things that writers write. We read The Dot and talked about trying our best and never giving up.

Next Week:

Students will be wrapping up their five senses lessons in science. We will practice sight words and punctuation. The class will discuss writing about small moments in our Writers' Workshop. Students will begin reading nonfiction stories and learning how to find the important details in the story. Students will continue working on making numbers in different ways.

Reminders:

- * We will go over our regular homework at Back to School Night. On Tuesday, students will bring home math homework to go with our math lessons.
- * Permission slips for Mustang Academy are going home today. If your student receives a permission slip, please sign and return it. Mustang Academy starts Tuesday, September 3rd.

Have a wonderful three day weekend!

Warmly,
Mrs. Sarkany
